

"Wizard!!!", the King shouted, "try it again!
When we won't find the right spell, we will all live in fear or we have to kill the dragon."

Bella was behind a pillar and heard everything.
She can't believe her eyes.

"My dear dragon... Derech! They want to kill him now!", she whispered.

With tears in her eyes, she ran away to Jack to tell him about the talk between the King and the Wizard. While they were talking, the Wizard came back from his cellar to tell the King, that he hasn't got ideas how to make Derech smaller. He practised all the spells, but on every spell he made a mistake.

"And what will we do now?!", the King growled louder, "Because of you we have to kill the dragon or he will hurt other people. You have to help in the kitchen or clean many rooms now.
Today is the day, where we will kill the dragon!"

"I'm so sorry my King! I will do my very best! Of course I'll help you with everything!", the Wizard answered.

As Bella heard these words, she was very upset, but she had a plan. "Come on Jack! Today the King will kill the dragon, but you know" can't see this. I have a plan: Now Derech is in a prison with lots of chains. I know where the key is. Tifi has it and I know she will give it to me.", she took courage.

"Perfect! And then?", asked Jack. "Well, then we will get out of the chains and fly away with him. I really don't know, where he will fly, but I'm sure far away!", answered Bella.

"But... he isn't himself. He does bad things or makes other people have a lot of scare!", Jack gaped.

"I know he won't do this with us! He knows us good and I know, how I can help him to calm down.", said Bella.

So they went to Tifi and she gave them the key.

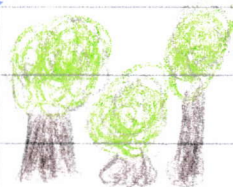

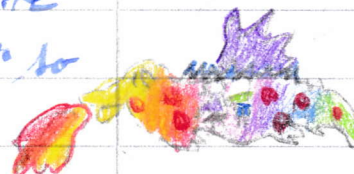

"Hurry up! The execution is soon!", Tifi said.

"Thanks Tifi! That's very nice of you!" they said and ran to Derech. Arriving in the cell, they saw security guards.

"Excuse me, we're from the castle. We have the key and the King says, we can say "good-bye" to the dragon." Bella lied.

They went in and there they saw the big dragon Derech. Bella saw that he suffered and he was injured. Jack stood at the door and looked that nobody goes in. With Bella, Derech wasn't aggressive. He allowed her that she can make of the chains.

"Jack! Come on. He's quiete at the moment he won't do something bad. Now we can try to mount on him!", she whispered. Suddenly when the both were on the dragon he flew through the ceiling.
"Wow! That's amazing! We fly!", Jack screamed.
"It looks like he will land right here!", Jack screamed with fear.

At this moment Derek crashed in a lot of trees and bushes in the middle of a forest.

"Yeah! We did it! Great Derek! But it looks like soon it'll be darker and the sun will rise," Bella determined.

At the same moment Derek made a fire. But it wasn't a little fire. A big part of the forest started to burn.

"Oh no! What can we do now? Help, Help!!!"

The fire was ready everywhere in the forest but then a big pink and blue dragon came and stopped the fire. "Wow! Wonderful. It looks very cool! She spits water. Our rescue. Thank you so much!", Jack thanked. Suddenly Derek started to talk:

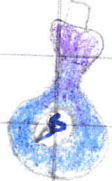

"Her name is Allison and she's a rainbow dragon. She can spit water, didn't you see?", said Derek, eugh... I can talk?! I don't believe it. I want absolutely to talk to you and now I can do this!
"Me too! Wow!", Allison wondered herself.

"I can't believe it! you two can talk?!", Bella said. "Yes, but now we should find the right spell to make us two smaller!", Derek replied.

"Oh guys, my suggestion is that you children go to the Wizard's cellar and my friend Derek and we wait here for you, because when we go with you, they will arrest us again," Allison explained.

Jack and Bella went to the Wizard's cellar. There they can't find him, because he had to work in the big castle. That was very good for Bella and Jack, because then they can search what they need. Bella looked for something little, because she thought when the spell will make them smaller the thing must be small too. Jack looked for an animal, where they can try the spell.

"Bella, look! I've found a frog! It's good to test something on it," Jack said happily.

"Yes Jack good! I've found something good too! A little flower, I don't know the name, but it could be the right flower! Maybe he has to eat it!," Bella said. Shortly after the frog ate a piece of the flower, but it happened nothing.

"Um... Maybe we've done a mistake... let me see... there's a book!" Jack thought. He browsed in the pages and on one page he saw a magic potion. He looked around at him and saw the same potion.

"Bella, I have it! I have it!", he screamed. We don't need to try it. I know it's the right magic potion!"

Bella and Jack ran back in the forest over a lot of stones and some houses. Then they were there.

"Allison, Derek! We have it!", the two screamed.

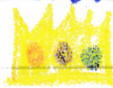

"Try it! Both!"

The two dragons were a lot of smaller.

"It has worked! Yeah we did it again! I think now we have to go back to the castle, they search us, I think." Bella thought. After a few minutes they were back at the castle. They went to the king.

"We're so sorry, that we kidnaped Dereck, but he's small now and we can't see, that he'll be dead. We have found out, that he can talk to us and Allison a friend too!" Bella explained.

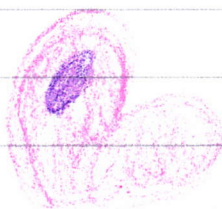

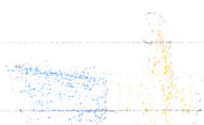

ALLISON & DERECK

"Do this never again okay? But it's great to see you all! You are set again, you are doing a good job both so amazing thank you! Is it okay for Allison when she would work with us too?" the king asked.

"Yes of course. It's cool and with my friend Dereck it will be the best!" Allison answered happily.

So Bella, Allison, Dereck and Jack did their job very good and all were happier than before.

They lived happily ever after.

Dragon Dilemma

"I'm afraid I don't know how," he said and gulped again. "I'll magic him small again, I promise you," he said and walked upstairs to his room. "I really hope for you!" shouted the king and went angry away. Then the others went into their rooms, too and everything was quiet. A few minutes later shouted Wizard Watchit: "I have an idea!!!" Everyone ran to his room and watched excited to him. "What is if I say the magic spell backward and throw the ingredients backwards in the magic cauldron?" said the Wizard with a very proud voice. "It could work", replied Fifi and the Wizard started to make the spell. During the Wizard made the spell, the King, the Queen and everyone else went downstairs to look after the dragon - but he was gone! Everything they saw was a destroyed room with a broke window. "We're so stupid!", said Jack. "We let the dragon fly away!" Jack and the others were mad, because the dragon is gone and they have to find it. "Guys, here is the spell, you only have to throw this poison on the dragon," said the Wizard as he was downstairs, but then he saw that the dragon was gone. "Em, where is the dragon?!", he screamed. "Please don't say that he's gone.", it was quiet. Then Jack said: "We are so sorry Watchit, but it is gone." Bella started to cry: "Why the dragon is gone? It was such a cute little dragon, but now it is gone." Then Wizard Watchit said: "Bella, I promised you that I'll make him small again and I never break a promise so I have to find it. I'll bring it back to you!" Bella was already a little bit happier and she said with a sad voice: "I'll come with you." But... started the Wizard, but Bella interrupted him and the Wizard and Bella started to search the dragon. The first place where they started to search the dragon, was the forest, called "endless green", but the dragon was not there. Then they searched it on the fields, but it wasn't there, too. After all they searched on the big dragon playground and they saw a Enormous dragon sleep there. "Is it?" asked Watchit Bella. "I think so", whispered Bella back. Then the Wizard tip toed to the dragon and throwed the posion on it. "Pffff", "Krk", this are the things they heard as the dragon get small again. "But wait", shouted Bella, "this isn't our dragon. I drew a purple heart on his right wing!" "Oh no", said Wizard Watchit disappointed, "Now we have no posion left for the right dragon. I really hope I have some ingredients left for one last posion." After this sentence they both went back to their Castle and told the King and the others about their adventure and that they missed the spell. Then Watchit and Bella ran upstairs to Watchits room and Searched after the ingredients, that they need for the spell. Now they knew this room better than any other room and they almost found all ingredients, with out the dragonfruit. This dragonfruit grows only in the dragon dungeon, of the scariest dragon on earth - the dragon Urgot. Bella started to cry again: "How can we get this dragonfruit? We can't fight with this dragon! It's too strong for us." "Don't worry, we will find a solution, but first we have to sleep.

Goodnight Bella." "Good night Watchit." At the next morning Wizard Watchit had an idea: "Bella, can you cook the dragons favourite food? But not only one meal, cook as much meals as you can, okay?"

"Yes, I can. But can you tell me for what, please?"

"Oh, sorry. With this food we can bait the dragon to this castle and we don't need to search him again." "Okay Watchit. That's a nice plan, but how do we get that dragon fruit?"

"Don't worry. I have a great idea for that, too. This night, I made a invisible potion. When I go into the dungeon I'll drink it and the dragon won't see me." "Wow Watchit. You such a genius."

"Thank you, but start to cook, please. I go into the dungeon now." "Good luck Watchit!"

So the Wizard walked to the dungeon and drank the invisible potion. It was a very big dungeon and very dark too. He walked deeper, deeper, deeper, until he saw the dragonfruits. He grabbed a few and wanted to get out of the dungeon. but then his invisibility don't worked anymore. The dragon Urgot haven't seen him yet, but Watchit ran and ran and ran... He was almost outside but then he heard a strange noise that was going to be louder and louder and louder. He hides behind a big stone and saw the dragon Urgot walking outside. Urgot was outside now and flew into the air in direction castle. Watchit ran in direction castle, too and wanted to warn the people in the castle, but the dragon was much faster. Urgot was almost in the castle, but then there came another dragon, it was Bellas dragon! They two dragons fought during Watchit went into the castle and upstairs to his magic cauldron. He made the spell, but not only one. He made two poisons, one for Bellas dragon and one for Urgot, because if they are small they can't destroy the whole castle and Watchit can keep Urgot as a pet. Watchit walked to the highest place on the castle and throwed the two poisons onto the dragons. Both dragons fell from the sky upstairs and Bella caught them. Bella was so happy and embraced the Wizard and her little dragon. She gave Watchit Urgot who is his dragon now and he was really happy, too. The dragons have made friends, the King wasn't angry anymore and everybody lived happily ever after.

After a few minutes he heard a crazy sound. "Aaahh!", shouted Fifi. "The dragon!", shouted the wizard, too. But then the king was also coming in. "We have to find a solution for this problem. We live with this enormous pet.", answers the king angrily. Wizard Watchit was going into his laboratory to find a solution. At the next day he told the king what to do "I need some ingredients for the spell. Hmmh, but these things aren't near the castle. The Yum Yum plant and the biggest leaf which you can find. Are you able to come with me to the dark forest?" asked the wizard. The king answers "If it is the onliest way to make the dragon small again, I'll come with you!" Then they put some food and drinks in bags. One day later they went out of the castle. After a few hours the king stopped and huffed "Pfu!". "What's up? Why did you stop?" asked the wizard. "I need some food because I'm hungry!", said the king. A few minutes later they wanted to eat some lunch. But the both heard crazy sounds. For example Aaaa hrrrrnd a sound like Schmatz, Schmatz! "What is...?" asked the king, but he stopped because he saw the Yum Yum plant which the Wizard told him before. It wanted to eat the king and came nearer. But just in this moment Wizard Watchit came and cut off it. "Hooray!", cried the king happily. "We still need only one more ingredient for the spell." After their lunch they followed the way to their next aim. "Yeah! Do you see this big leaf on the tree in front of you?" asked the wizard the king. At once Wizard Watchit ran as fast as he can and didn't see the hole in the way. One second later he fell into the and cried loudly. "Aaahh! I hurt my foot and twisted my ankle. Find the leaf and put the both things into a bowl. You don't any other things to cook." "Okay. Am I going to need some fire?" asked the king because for a good meal you need fire to cook it. But then the wizard wasn't able to answer the king's question. Because the tree with the biggest leaf fell onto the whole hole and the king didn't hear anything of Wizard Watchit. It's very dangerous thought the king and took the leaf. After that he found a nice place to cook and put the two things into a bowl which he found near the hole. But he wasn't sure if he need fire. Then he lighted a fire. Puff, Bang. Black clouds come out of the bowl and nothing was still in the bowl. "It was a bad idea to light the fire. What can I do?" thought the king. He was looking for another solution then he saw an old, broken house. It looked very myserty and magic. He rang on the door. Ding, Dang, Dong. An old lady opened the door. Knatz. "Hello, who are you?" "Good afternoon. I'm the king of the castle near Gondinia. I would like to ask you something. In my castle there was a little dragon, but he was going bigger and bigger because Wizard Watchit made a spell for him. Do you know anything to do?" asked the king boldly. The lady answers "Yes, I do. If you want that the dragon is small again, you have to put him your crown on head forever. If you don't put the crown on top he is going to be big and dangerous again!" The king said disappointed "OK. I'll try it!" "Here is a bottle with a magic water inside. If you open the bottle the dragon did what you say, and you can put him the crown on top.", said she. The both said "Good-bye" and the king left the house. After that he opened the bottle and shouted "Dragon, come to me!" "WOSH", the dragon came. The king told him where the Wizard is to take him out of the closed hole. "Thank you!", said the Wizard thank was out of it. After a long flight they were back at the castle. Everybody was happy about their coming. The only one who wasn't happy was the king. But he understood and put the dragon the crown on top. W!WAW!UTSH. And the dragon was small again. "Hooray!", shouted the people happily and after that they celebrated a big party.

They lived happily ever after.

... He thought about the correct spell. "That's very difficult. There are so many spells.", he ranted.

Then he found something. He ran to the dragon and shouted the words through the door. "~~Hooray!~~ Wizard found a spell!", shouted the King. But suddenly the dragon got taller and taller. Fifi cried: "~~Oh no!~~ What can we do?"

Bella came to the others and asked for some books with spells. Wizard went with her to his room in the tallest tower. "Look! There are so many books and we have no time.", said he. "I can read very fast. I'll do this.", replied Bella. She read and read. And then in one of the last books she found what she was looking for; The dragon must drink a soup with special herbs. Bella shouted: "King, Queen, Jack, Wizard and Fifi, I have the solution! Look here, in this book!" The King read the recipe.

"But where can we find this herbs and who give the soup to our fire-breathing friend?", asked he. Nobody answered.

"I've already seen this herbs. They're by the river next to our castle.", said Bella.

"That's very good! But who's courageous enough to feed the dragon?", asked the Queen.

Bella answered: "OK, I do it! I'm scared, but it was my friend, when it was small."

The next day Bella went to the river and took the herbs. She had to do it quickly. Back at home Bella cooked the magic soup. She was very nervous. When she went to the enormous dragon her heart was beating very fast. She opened the door. The dragon jumped high and spited fire. Bella ran behind the door and whispered: "I'm your friend, do you remember? I help you to be your old self again! You must drink this soup! I've made it!" She was excited. Her legs trembled. Suddenly she heard, that the dragon huff friendly. Bella gave him the soup and he gulped. She couldn't believe her eyes. The dragon got smaller. Bella shouted: "Come here everybody! I've done it!" They came in and they were very proud of Bella, their new hero. From now on the dragon and Bella lighted the candles on every morning, again. They lived happily ever after.
